

The President's Perspective

Men With A Mission

With all that H.O.P.E. Ministries has had on its plate the last three years, we have not been able to accommodate something that I love dearly, one of our MEN WITH A MISSION conferences. Over the past three years, I've been asked repeatedly, "When is the next conference?" I am thrilled to announce that we will be hosting our next conference on Friday and Saturday, NOVEMBER 4 - 5, in Hickory, North Carolina. The conference will begin at 7:00pm on Friday evening. Our theme this year will be: "For Such a Time as This." Special music will be provided by the Daybreak Quartet, Jose' Young and the hand bell choir from Engleside Baptist Church, Alexandria, Virginia.

We have an outstanding slate of speakers lined up, including Major Alan Pomaville, Deputy Chaplain at the Pentagon. Major Pomaville will be our keynote speaker on Friday evening, November 4. Major Pomaville is one of the most gracious and committed Christians that I have ever met. His insights into what God is doing in and through our military men and women will be stirring. In addition, we have an outstanding group of dedicated Christian laymen who have a personal message to deliver that will challenge and change you.

I encourage you to mark your calendars now for this exciting and life-changing event. Brochures and further details will be available through our website in a few weeks with all the pertinent information (cost, hotel accommodations, speaker information, etc.) included. Those of you who have attended past conferences know what God has done in saving men and calling them to greater degrees of commitment to Him.

If you have any questions that I can answer, do not hesitate to call me at 828-302-2060. I eagerly look forward to seeing you November 4 - 5. As always, the Friday evening service is open to the entire family. The Saturday sessions are for men only. You may check for periodic updates and register on-line at our website: www.hopeministriesonline.com, or download a printable registration form you can mail in with your registration fee of $35.00 for the conference.
